

The MIND clinic is pleased to be able to announce the establishment of a neuroscience lecture series that will be held every other Friday. This will be a webinar based lecture series by esteemed colleagues from United States, Hungary and Europe.

The one hour lecture will be held on Friday's at 8 AM (ET). This would be 2 PM (Hungary time). The lecture itself will be 45 minutes long with 15 minutes for questions via chat. A list of topics and lectures will be forwarded in the upcoming weeks. The official language will be English.

This lecture series is supported by MIND clinic, Hungarian American Society of America (HMAA), DENT Neurologic Institute and PADME. The logistics of the meeting will be forwarded in upcoming correspondence.

The purpose of this lecture series is to allow neurologists, neuroscientists and interested colleagues the opportunity to meet the greatest minds of today in the field of neurology. Presenters will include internationally known thought leaders.

The MIND clinic has been established to promote educational and scientific values among residents, fellows and medical colleagues. This is especially important in today's world of social distancing and the inability to hold academic meetings.

The first lecture will be held on October 16, 2020 and the subject will be:

"The Role of CGRP in the Treatment of Migraine"

Laszlo Mechtler MD, FAAN, FAHS, FASN, FEAN.

Professor of Neurology and Oncology

Medical Director of MIND and DENT

Past President of HMAA and ASN
